RED CROSS PHARMACY.

These small and numerous islands, as they were, with the mainland. So rapid is the flow of the liquid asphalt, which amounts to ten million tons annually, into the lake, that the entire body, or surface, is constantly moving, thus necessitating a continual relaying of the tracks and surveyed pegs. So evident is this movement and so peculiar is this substance that an excavation worked one day completely disappears in two or three days.

As to its depth, it might be added that at the springs or centers of the lake soundings have been made to a depth of 150 feet without finding bottom. The asphalt deposits, however, extend only to a depth of about 90 feet in the center and eighteen feet along the edges of the shores. The entire mass is supposed to be supported by a body of water.

After the freshly excavated asphalt is loaded on cars and conveyed to the shore, where the tubs, with a capacity of one thousand pounds each, are lifted by hydraulic power to the aerial tramway, whence it is rapidly conveyed to the pier, some four thousand feet distant, and dumped directly into the holds of the vessels.

As over 28 per cent. of its bulk is water, its solidity can readily be imagined when the pressure upon itself, the heat and the motion of the boat eliminate this volume of water as well as gas. Becoming agglomerated into a solid mass on its voyage, it has to be again broken up by picks in order to be removed from the vessel. Upon its arrival at the factory it is heated under its strong cleavage it is placed in large tubs resting upon small flat-top trams operating upon a narrow-gauge road which extends in a loop from the shore around the center of the lake and back. This, together with the rope haulage, connects

The ordinary Trinidad asphaltum paving mixture is made by adding and thoroughly mixing with hot refined asphalt about 15 per cent. of its weight of residuum, the mixture serving to cement together the sand and powdered limestone which enter into the paving mixture. The proportions of the ingredients vary according to their physical and chemical quality, as well as to the climate in which the pavement is to be used, hot climates requiring less cement than cold.

As to the asphalt deposits of South America, just what causes these hot springs of asphalt is still unknown, the great philosopher Millet contending that it is due to the decomposition of accumulations of vegetation, while Dambrie holds forth the theory that its origin is formed in a like manner to that of coal.
It is found in deposits varying from a mere bubble to a seven-acre tract all over the Venezuela, the earth often being so saturated with it as to appear mingled with the soil and rocks. Both the Fitch Lake of Trinidad and the Bermudez Lake, in Venezuela, continually overflow their banks, thus casting a large amount into the rivers and the sea.

Who was the first man to introduce this natural resource into the commercial world is not certain, but the credit is laid at the door of one M. Merlan, a Swiss engineer, who laid a portion of the road from Traversa to Pontalier in 1849 with this smooth material. The first pavement, however, was not laid until 1864, when a small section of a street in Paris was paved.—Business

ABOUT THE STATE.

Dr. W. E. Putnam of Burlington has been appointed a member of the Bennington county board of pensions. The other members are Dr. L. H. Ross and Dr. R. J. Potter, both of Bennington.

The semi-annual conference of the Catholic clergy of the district of Burlington was held in St. Joseph's church, Burlington, Tuesday afternoon. The Rt.
Rev. J. M. Cloutier presided. Papers were read by the Revs. E. Pariseau and J. P.
Rand of Winoski, L. H. Lachance of South Hero and J. H. Billon of Burlington.

Deputy United States Marshal Thomas Reeves of Burlington delivered the alien girl, Rosa Bonchard, into the custody of Inspector W. D. Lewis, at the Burlington railroad station Tuesday. The girl and all of her worldly effects were taken by the official to Burlington, this being the closing act in the deportation proceedings.

A farmer who resides on the line between Monkton and Bristol says the outlook for farmers in that vicinity is dubious. He says that many of the farmers are drawing water for their cattle as far as three miles, and that all the sap gathering tubs and vats are in use. Milk cows, he says, are selling as low as $5, $8, and $10, and March calves as low as $3 and $4.

The water in Lake Champlain registers just three quarters of an inch above the low water mark, which shows that the water has risen one half an inch within the past few days, when it registered a quarter of an inch above the mark. Whether it will reach the famous low water mark or not is doubtful, notwithstanding the exceedingly dry weather.

Helmert Rabild, a representative from the department of agriculture at Washington, who was sent to Morrisville by Prof. J. L. Hills of Burlington, met a quarter of the farmers at the board of trade rooms for the purpose of organizing a co-operative cow testing association. Many of the farmers pledged their support, and the outlook is very promising for the organization of an association.

The manufacturing concerns of Bennington are in a prosperous condition and operations are carried on in several establishments on a practically normal basis. Some departments in the knitting mill of H. E. Bradford & Co. of the Cooper Manufacturing Company and of the collar and cuff factory of the Bottom-Torrence company are being operated on a seventy-five or eighty per cent. basis, but it is said the outlook for larger business is good.

Fortieth Wedding Anniversary.

Tuesday being the fortieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs.
Francis B. Macomber of Westford, they were happily surprised by an old-fashioned visit from their friends and neighbors, and the receipt of many letters from absent friends and comrades of the war for the union, tendering heartfelt congratulations.

When a boy of 18 years Francis B.
Macomber left his home in Westford and enlisted as a private in Company A, First Vermont Cavalry, September 17, 1862, and was promoted to corporal for gallant service in the field. His war record is a splendid one, full of hard marches and engagements, his regiment, during his three years' service, having been present in action in some fifty-three battles and skirmishes. Upon his muster out of the United States service he returned to his Westford home, where he has since resided, serving his town as selectman, later, school director, trustee of the library and representative in the legislature of the state of Vermont.

INSPECTED CONTRACT.

Randolph Normal School Trustees Hint Breach of Faith.

The executive board of the Randolph Normal school have issued a book giving their ideas in support of the claim that the normal school at that place should not be discontinued, and compared its work with other institutions.
In closing the committee says:

"In 1900 the state made an implied contract with the schools that they should exist for eight years, paying in their money as required and performing all the duties required of them till now it is announced and the state is advised publicly to abrogate its implied contract. It is the first public advice of the kind the state has ever had, and we believe it was an oversight of the commission and that they would not so advise if they had given it due consideration and we believe that the legislature will see that no such act shall run the pages of our legislation. If the schools are not what they should be for lack of money, why not put in more money and make them so. It will require less money to accept the $30, 000, the $40,000 worth of property of Randolph and make an ideal school than to organize and build a new building in an entirely new place and then work out the experiment."

BEATING FIRES
WITH BIG BROOMS.

Control Is Gained Over Those in the Southern Part of the State.

Bennington, Oct. 22.—But one forest fire of any importance burned in the vicinity of Bennington yesterday and this on the side of the side of Bald mountain in which there are no habitations, although wide tracts of heavily wooded timber land lay in its path. A large number of men who had been sent to the scene of the fire Wednesday in automobiles returned that night to Bennington, and again went out to fight the flames yesterday. They reported that the fire was spreading rapidly, but that it was hoped to check it by means of beating and thrashing with large brooms, specially contrived for the purpose, and by clearing all the roads of any inflammable material, making gaps which it was thought would impede the flames considerably.

St. Albans Fire Not Yet Under Control.

Enosburg, Oct. 23.—The forest fires on the land of Dr. W. S. Stevens of St.
Albans, which have been burning since Sunday, was still uncontrolled yesterday, although confined of necessity to one large tract of timberland. The maple trees on the land burned briskly.

5,000 MEN FIGHT FIRES.

Commissioner Whipple Says Adirondack Flames Are Checked.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 23.—James S.
Whipple of the state forest, fish and game commission said yesterday that reports received from various points in the Adirondack mountains indicate that forest fires are still under control.
Additional men are still being employed to fight the fires. At present he said over 5,000 are at work.

The Union Bag and Paper company has suspended operations and put its men to work fighting fires. Commissioner Whipple left for the mountains yesterday noon to make a personal inspection.
